Minutes

The group of four participants met in the library lobby for an informational tour to further learn about the redevelopment potential available as part of the city's call for development concepts. Anne Lopez welcomed and thanked the participants. The tour was led by David Stoner and Tara Kivett, who began the tour on the rooftop of the library building. On the rooftop, the location of the building, being adjacent to Coachman Park and Downtown Clearwater, was highlighted. The tour then proceeded through the building, moving down to each floor, looking at the spaces available. The tour concluded on the first floor after viewing the terrace.

Questions asked during the tour will be provided separately on the website:
